

MUSEUMS CAN BE FUN VOLUNTEER TODAY

The Biddeford Mills Museum is preparing to reopen the museum and restart our popular mill tours in June – and we need help. Bring your personal skill-set and we can find you as many volunteer hours as you would like. We need:

Tour Guides should be able to stand and walk comfortably for a minimum of 2 hours and speak in a clear voice to a group of as many as 12 people. An interest in history makes it more fun for you, but we can give you all the material you will need.

Tour Guide Aids handle some of the logistics of the tours as a member of a two-man tour guide “team”.

Museum Docents or Receptionists are needed to welcome our visitors.

One or two folks who check for dust and tracked-in dirt would be helpful. No heavy cleaning, but just keep our museum tidy.

Let’s talk about our computerized Archives or our need to keep our news out in the community using electronics and print media.

If you have experience as a Grant Writer or Museum Curator and are willing to work with our all-volunteer staff, you would be welcomed with open arms!
